

Meeting a New Prescriber

Getting someone new up to speed without leaving out the parts that matter.

WHEN TO USE THIS

Use this before a first appointment with someone who has not met you.

In two sentences, what brings you to them?

What have you tried before, and what happened?

1.

2.

3.

4.

What do you want to know from them today?

1.

2.

3.

What do you want them to understand about you?

You know your own history better than anyone else in that room.